ANNE JOLIC TAKES THE HELM AT DEVELOPMENT VICTORIA

Anne Jolic has been appointed as the new CEO of Development Victoria, the Allan Labor Government's development arm which helps to deliver thousands of homes right across the state.

Ms Jolic brings a wealth of experience from her extensive career in the private sector and property industry. She has held senior roles at Lendlease and Mirvac, as well as leadership positions with the Property Council of Australia, including a two-year tenure as Victorian President.

With a career spanning more than 25 years, she has led diverse multi-disciplinary teams to deliver award-winning projects.

In her most recent role as Head of Operations at Lendlease, she oversaw a $4.1 billion portfolio of complex projects spanning mixed-use developments, residential, commercial, retail, and build-to-rent projects.

Ms Jolic is well placed to lead Development Victoria to revitalise urban areas and unlock government land, create cultural and recreational facilities, and build diverse, affordable and sustainable communities.

This includes working closely with the Labor Government to unlock and rezone surplus government land, enabling the delivery of approximately 9,000 homes across 45 sites in metropolitan Melbourne and regional Victoria.

Development Victoria will continue to partner with government, industry and communities to deliver transformative projects like the iconic Fitzroy Gasworks.
