FREE TRAVEL FOR YOUNG VICTORIANS FROM JANUARY

The Allan Labor Government is making public transport free for more than one million young Victorians from 1 January, with the new Youth myki now available to purchase online.

Available for purchase on the Transport Victoria website, the Youth myki ensures all passengers aged under 18 can travel for free across the network from the start of next year.

The youth myki was announced as part of the Victorian Budget 2025/26 to deliver free public transport to children – ensuring cheaper school runs, more affordable weekends and one less thing for families to worry about.

A yearly student pass currently costs $755, but from next year children can travel for free and for a family with three children under 18, that's a saving of $2,265 a year.

The Youth myki will also be available to purchase at staffed stations from Saturday, 27 December.

The new Youth myki cards feature a striking design that was created by 11-year-old Victorian student Charlie, that captures all the ways young Victorians will be able to use the cards for free next year.

On 1 January, new Youth myki cards will be activated, providing children free travel across the public transport network.

All young people under 18 years old are eligible for a Youth myki card, no matter where they live. On booked V/Line services the Youth myki card number can be used to access free travel. On non-myki regional buses, children can use Youth myki as a flash pass.

From 1 January 2026, more than 650,000 seniors and close to 300,000 carers and disability support pensioners will also be able to catch a train, tram or bus for free on weekends. Passengers must carry their proof of concession and continue to tap on and off as usual, but they won't be charged on weekends.

Families already have access to free public transport across Victoria every weekend until 1 February 2026 to celebrate the opening of the Metro Tunnel and thank Victorians for their patience during construction.
