BUILDING MORE HOMES IN THE HEART OF FITZROY

The Allan Labor Government is building hundreds more homes in Melbourne's inner north – boosting supply and affordability in the heart of Fitzroy.

Minister for Development Victoria and Precincts Harriet Shing today announced up to 230 extra homes will be built at the iconic Fitzroy Gasworks site, on top of the 820 homes already planned for Parcels B and C.

The increase lifts the total number of homes planned across the precinct to 1,400, with at least 20 per cent affordable homes, helping more Victorians live close to jobs, education and public transport.

The updated plans also deliver 145 more public car parks and larger open space, making sure Fitzroy Gasworks becomes a leafy, vibrant place to live, work and meet for years to come.

Progress is also continuing on Parcel A, with 'Local: Residential' selected to build up to 360 new homes, including 33 per cent affordable housing, with 10 per cent of affordable homes reserved for First Peoples.

Local: Residential is Australia's largest build-to-rent provider which will work alongside the Inner North Collective Joint Venture, which is building Parcels B and C, to create a connected and cohesive neighbourhood across the precinct.

Construction is expected to begin on Parcel B in April 2026, Parcel C in mid-2027, and Parcel A in mid to late 2027.

Already home to the Wurun Senior Campus and Bundha Sports Centre, Fitzroy Gasworks will soon be a thriving new community in one of Melbourne's most sought-after locations, with easy access to bike trails, public transport, schools and employment.

Quotes attributable to Minister for Development Victoria and Precincts Harriet Shing

"Projects like Fitzroy Gasworks are giving more Victorians a place to call home and better access within walking distance to transport, jobs, education, healthcare, services, and green open spaces."

"Victorians deserve real action, not theatrics and double-speak from the Liberals and Greens whose only plans are to block, oppose, and complain. We're backing projects that actually build affordable, environmentally sustainable homes across inner-urban communities where Victorians want to live."

Quote attributable to Member for Northern Metropolitan Enver Erdogan

"We're increasing housing supply in sought after areas like Fitzroy so more Victorians can find an affordable home convenient for work, study and family."

Quote attributable to Assemble Managing Director Kris Daff

"Through alignment across State and Federal government, institutional capital, community housing providers and delivery partners, Fitzroy Gasworks is being reimaged as a landmark precinct that delivers significant housing choice and long-term community value."
